

The Anvil of Argument: Debate and disagreement in nursing

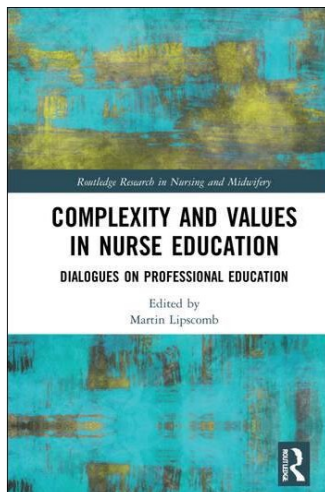

3 November 2022 Online

17:30 UK (GMT)

10:30 Canada – Vancouver (PDT)

13:30 Canada – Toronto (EDT)

10:30 USA – Los Angeles (PDT)

What is and what is not acceptable in academic or scholarly argument?

Is disagreement embraced, or do restrictions curtail and limit what is said? What hinders and what encourages productive discourse? And must debate or critique always be productive?

To celebrate the launch of the book Complexity and Values in Nurse Education: Dialogues on Professional Education, panel discussants Sally Thorne, Barbara Pesut, and John Paley engage aspects of the questions posed above – questions that probe the character and form of disputation in nursing's literature.

Prof Sally Thorne

University of British Columbia (Canada)

Prof Barbara Pesut

University of British Columbia, Okanagan (Canada)

John Paley

University of Worcester (UK)

Please book your place using our online form

Event queries, please e-mail: j.fleet@worc.ac.uk